

FRIDAY, APRIL 6, 1877.

Price, April 2d
THE MINER ENLARGED.

In obedience to a constantly increasing demand in our advertising space, we have enlarged our enlarged the DAILY MINER—the size of the present number, which will however enable us to give advertisers a larger share of a large circulation, which, however, in consequence of our cramped facilities, was impossible.

We have been compelled in the past to alternate the advertisements in the daily, giving one-half the advertisements one day and the other half the next. This is now done without any advertiser's advertisement will appear every day, and in the weekly edition as well.

As the Miner, including its daily and weekly editions, will more than double the circulation of any other paper in the Territory, is now a newspaper from all cliques and factions, is completely independent in every thing, and has a political religious or social character, having "no friends to reward, no enemies to punish," is self-reliant, supporting itself fully alive to the wants and interests of its patrons in laying before them the best moment every news or news worth recording, that either in industry or money can procure, and in consequence is daily and weekly rapidly increasing in circulation throughout the Territory and Coast, as well as on the Atlantic side of the great mountains and even beyond the seas, it therefore becomes the most desirable and profitable advertising medium outside of the large cities on the Western Slope.

We have started in to publish a paper that shall be valuable for the amount and character of information it shall convey to its readers, and not to modify in private piques and neighborhood quarrels, except when they shall assume public importance by coming into the courts, and even then it shall be our purpose rather to give the facts to to prejudge the public by ex parte, or garbled statements.

When our facilities shall again permit increasing, as from present indications they no doubt will, means will be found to keep up with the requirements of the times.

We have resolved that there shall at least be one live newspaper in the Territory, and that its circulation and influence for the good of the country shall at least continue to equal that of the aggregate circulation and influence of all other papers in the Territory combined.

AGENT CLUM ORDERED TO VISIT WARM SPRINGS.

Agent Clum, of the San Carlos reservation, has been ordered by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs at Washington, to proceed to the Warm Springs Indian reservation and cause the Indians, who recently stole stock in the southern part of the Territory, to turn over all of the stolen stock in their possession. He is also instructed, and required to remove the band of Chiricahua Indians, now at Warm Springs, who really belong to his reservation, to the San Carlos.

Mr. Clum, to comply with his instructions, received from the Commissioner, has asked Gen. Kautz, Commander of the Department, for troops with which he may be enabled to make the removal. As the Warm Spring reservation is in the Division of the Missouri, and out of the jurisdiction of Gen. Kautz, he refused Mr. Clum's request for troops. As these Indians are to be arrested and brought home, it is no more than right that Agent Clum should make his application to Gen. Hatch, commanding the Department of New Mexico, who is the proper person to render the necessary assistance in the premises, at least so far as making the arrests are concerned and in giving proper aid in recovering the stolen stock and bringing the same as far as the Arizona line, where Gen. Kautz will meet them with troops and conduct them to the San Carlos.

Yours sincerely, F. O. O'LEARY.

Camp Apache, March 19, 1877.

Dear Mr. Cooley:—In answer to your note asking me if I consider Pedro's band of White Mountain Apaches self-sustaining, the fact that they have not received rations or any assistance from the Government for about two years, would seem to be the best answer to that question. As Pedro farms regularly every year and sells his grain at the Post, he has been able to live quite well since his rations have been stopped.

Yours sincerely, F. O. O'LEARY.

Pedro has asked permission to be left alone and wishes to become a citizen; is desirous to have his property assessed and expresses a wish to pay taxes on the same.

OUR CALIFORNIA LETTER.

EDITOR MINER:—That vast stretch of country lying between Prescott and San Bernardino has been so often described and is personally so familiar to most of your readers, that I deem it superfluous to essay a description of the same. The trip on the stage though not as agreeable as might be expected is as comfortable as the surrounding difficulties of staging in that country will admit of. Amongst my fellow passengers there were quite a number, who from the exaggerated reports now current in San Francisco, were led to believe that Arizona was the very Eldorado of fiction, forsaking them did not find mammoth caves literally lined with gold and silver, must go back with a thousand anathemas against Arizona upon their lips. These fellows know about as much of a mine as a Tonto Apache does of astronomy and far better for the country it would be, that they should bask in the sunshine of California street lunch houses, their only element, then seek to delve into the mysteries of such wonders as the Peck, McCrackin, or Silver King.

On the road we found quite a number of immigrants plodding their way Arizonawards, and report reaches me here of hundreds of families who are now preparing to do likewise. Amongst its members are many practical farmers, who will no doubt do much towards the development of the agricultural resources of your section. The Arizona's excitement altogether has reached fever heat, and many will go who have little or no means at their command. That they might not be considerable suffering, owing to the want of employment, is by no means certain, yet all prognostications or warnings will not abate the exodus from this State; the failures of crops, the drought and general stagnation in business throughout California must of necessity fill up soon every available nook and corner in the Territory, and if you can but adopt some policy, by which you will be enabled to keep those that will come in future greatness and prosperity as is assured beyond a preadventure of a doubt. Yours Truly, SAM.

San Bernardino, March 27th, 1877.

Correspondence.

The following correspondence will show in what light the Indians are held at Camp Apache, and also give the reader an idea whether Indians can take care of themselves and become self-sustaining, when they have a chance and are let alone:

C. E. COOLEY, Esq., Camp Apache, A. T.—Sir—I have purchased from Pedro's band of White Mountain Apaches, and the other Indians in the vicinity of Camp Apache, about two hundred and fifty thousand pounds of corn and over three hundred tons of hay. Said corn and hay have been purchased since the removal of the Indians to the San Carlos. Pedro's band has drawn no rations for about two years, and I consider him and his people self-sustaining. He has credit at my store on the same equality as a citizen. I have always found him truthful and consider him entitled to become a citizen. I am very respectfully yours, liberty,

L. B. ST. JAMES, Post Teacher, Camp Apache, March 19, 1877.

BY ORDER OF THE COUNCIL.

A new mine has been discovered south of town which is claimed by the finder to exceed in richness, anything heretofore discovered in this section. We hope his realizations may prove true.

TRANSFERS.—Geo. Odyke has sold to Mary M. Bean all his right, title and interest in and to the following claims, viz: "Mary Bradshaw" claim, and the "Wild Rose," situate in the Peck mining district, for the sum of two dollars and the high respect and regard in which he holds Mrs. Bean.

The claims are valuable, and really the sale was a present, the money paid was merely a
